Back-to-School, Back-to-Basics

Even the most amazing among us needs to rely on a "go-to" school lunch option that is quick, simple, and provides enriched energy to help our little ones make it through the second half of their day. The long-reigning champion: the PB & J. In a few quick strokes, you can pack a lunch that provides protein, fiber, carbohydrates, and essential vitamins and minerals. Choose natural, healthy ingredients that are low in additives, and you have a delicious and nutritious option in a snap.

Have some fun! Substitute crackers for bread, or roll it up in a tortilla, slice it, and call it sushi-style. Cut a sandwich into squares, put it on a stick with raspberries, and call it a kebob. You can change to almond or cashew butter, swap out the jelly for honey and/or a banana. Ask your little learner to help make it with you and see what fun combos you can find together!
